Questionnaire 2008

Version: P / M

Research Team on Comparative Social Inequality
Warsaw, 2008

A. Introduction

A01-02. To begin, I will ask you a few questions about your work situation. Do you have any job giving you some income? We are interested in any kind of work: not only regular employment, but also various odd jobs, self-employment, farm work, or unregistered employment.

(1 - currently, R does not work)

(2 - currently, R works) → A04

A03. And did you work during the last year, even only for some time, on an individual farm, not necessarily one owned by you?

(1 - yes) if individual farm owner → C01, if not → D04

(0 - no) → E08

A04. Nowadays, people often have more than one job, sometimes they have multiple jobs, including various temporary arrangements. Do you currently have

(1) only one job, Write 1 in A05, then →A06A - One job

(2) or more than one job?

A05. How many jobs do you have at present?

Number of jobs → A06B - Two or more jobs

Z. Two tests

Z01A. (Raven's test): I have only two more tasks for you. The first one is a short test of perceptiveness. [Show item A]. In the upper part of each page of the test you have a pattern with one part missing. You need to choose an image to fill in the missing part that fits the pattern in both the vertical and horizontal direction. Only one image is the right one. In the first item, the image no.1 fits the pattern, but only in the vertical direction, while image no.4 fits in the horizontal direction, but not vertically. Please find the image which fits in both directions.

The right solution is image number 8 and this is the number that you need to write in the first box. [Show R, where on the last page of the questionnaire is the appropriate place to write down the answer.] Now do the next item by yourself. [Show item B.] The right solution is image number 4 – please write this number in the second box.

The next items are increasingly difficult. However, it is not necessary that you solve all of them – it is important that you understand the problem and attempt to solve as many items as possible. You have five minutes to do that.

Hand R items 1–10. On a separate page write the time of the start of the test and keep track of the time to note when five minutes have passed. Then write down the following:

(1) how many items R solved (regardless whether correctly or not) within 5 minutes (not counting items A and B). If R completed the test in less than 5 minutes or if he / she wants to continue the test after the 5 minutes have passed, allow R to do so and write down this fact.

(2) After how many minutes did R return the test to the interviewer (regardless of how many items he / she managed to solve).

After the completion of the test, the information described above should be reported in the questionnaire – below:

How many items R processed within the first 5 minutes?

Items [97 Refused]

After how many minutes R returned the test to interviewer?

- ☉ Thank you very much for this conversation and for answering the interview questions. Because the questionnaire was quite long and contained many detailed items, please allow me to take one more quick look at it to make sure that I did not miss anything.

⇒ [check whether the questionnaire is fully completed]

- ☉ My work, as any other work, is monitored and verified. The aim of this is to ensure that the published research results are credible and truly reflect the opinions of the people who participated in the study. That is why I would like to ask you to give your name, surname and phone number. It may happen that someone from the Centre of Sociological Research will want to contact you by phone to check whether my work here was done in accordance with the standards of scientific research. Do you agree that I check your personal data and write down your phone number on a separate form?

⇒ 1. Yes → [check the respondent's personal data and write down R's phone number in the Card]

⇒ 2. No

- ☉ The Polish Act on the Protection of Personal Data from August 29, 1997 obliges us to obtain, from all the survey participants, a declaration of consent to the processing and storing of the personal information we collect. Please fill out and sign this declaration. Would you kindly agree to do that?

⇒ 1. Yes → [hand the Declaration to the Respondent and explain its content]

⇒ 2. No → [ask R to fill in his / her surname and address, annotate „I DO NOT AGREE”, and sign]
